About

Incognito Singing Waiters are the 'Master Chefs' of the entertainment world. Combining the most exquisite ingredients; extraordinary staff, creative genius, hand-picked crème de la crème West End, Broadway and opera stars and most importantly, YOU. Then, masterfully, they blend these together; devising, creating then serving a sumptuous, mouth-watering feast of unrivalled entertainment.

Their incredible team of West End or Broadway stars will arrive at your event 'incognito', masquerading as waiters, chefs, guests, event staff, photographers... anything you can imagine. At the agreed moment, an 'interruption' will occur, which will create a mixture of emotions amongst your guests, that may include shock, confusion and/or concern. One by one, the stars reveal their true identity through song, exposing the ruse. f

The fee includes discussions with their Creative Director who will design a start and show that suits both your needs without taking away from the impact the show delivers. This unique entertainment is pure class, lots of fun, and will be talked about for weeks, months and years to come!

Performance

Each performance will be tailored just for your event, right down to the repertoire and who the performers will be.

With some of the biggest names in the West End, Broadway and opera world on their books, Incognito can accommodate all musical tastes. They recommend combining the timeless elegance and class of opera with the fun and the charm of musicals with the power of popular music for a unique and unforgettable experience.

Songs range from operatic classics, to rat pack, rock and pop classics, and all the much loved party music from the decades. If you're a fan of musicals and movies then Incognito can deliver your favourite hits from your most loved shows and films. Chicago? Les Miserables? The Greatest Showman? Consider it done!
