About

Lucy Alexander is a journalist and presenter well accustomed to the unpredictability of live broadcasting. She has worked on the regular presenting team at Sky News and as the Breakfast Anchor on the ITV Newschannel.

Lucy is well briefed on current affairs and is adept at rapidly digesting information, analysing it and making it understandable to the viewer. She has a lively and engaging manner, adapting with ease to 'out and about' location presenting.

Lucy Alexander is well known in the South East as the former face of ITV's 'London Today' and 'London Tonight' She trained as a journalist with the BBC. She has during her career reported for various news organisations and won an RTS Best Newcomer to TV Award.

Lucy's experience as a live broadcaster has made her a very popular and versatile corporate events host – Chairing debates, hosting conferences and earning praise for the warmth and enthusiasm she brings to awards ceremonies.

Lucy Alexander is also a highly competent and extremely versatile conference facilitator and host and has chaired many lively on-stage debates for large multi-national companies as diverse as BT Broadband, Kellogg's and Sony. She has an easy-going manner but the inquisitive, probing journalist is always there and her enthusiasm and 'sparkle' have made her a very popular host for debates, conferences and awards ceremonies.

She also has a degree in Modern Languages from Bristol University and speaks fluent French and Spanish.

Testimonials

Lucy Alexander is a fantastic conference chair and would be an asset to any event. Warm, friendly and relaxed yet ever professional she is a pleasure to work with. A creative talent and prodigious information gatherer, Lucy ensures she is fully briefed, enabling her to deal with a range of scenarios, ensuring delegates feel as though she knows their world inside and out. It's unusual for a conference chair to receive such positive feedback from event professionals and delegates alike; a testament to her hugely positive impact.

I just wanted to write to express a huge thank you to you for doing such a fabulous job in facilitating the Vodafone Channel Partners Conference. Your ability to ask the right questions at the right time, in the right way, was evident from beginning to end. All the feedback we have received from our Channel Partners and from our internal stakeholders at Vodafone has been fantastic - you are a true professional and have been a pleasure to work with - thank you for everything! We all very much hope we can work with you again on future Vodafone projects.

Haymarket Events organises, produces and stage manages up to 30 awards events every year, and therein lies an annual challenge of who should present them. Lucy Alexander has that rare knack of parachuting into a one-off event as though she's known the industry sector all her working life, or returning to the stage of familiar awards, say, three years' running, and bringing the same energy, freshness of approach and sheer enjoyment of her role, to each and every occasion. She is tireless, professional, interested and focused. Lucy shows respect for sponsors, fully understanding their investment in Haymarket's events, She celebrates joyfully with the winners on stage. And she is effortlessly easy to work with. Lucy Alexander is a consummate all round professional presenter.

Matthew Davies, Director of Events, Haymarket Business.
