

Tom Allen

Stand up comedian, writer and actor (The Apprentice: You're Fired)

Available For:

- Hosting & Presenting
- Comedy

MAKE AN ENQUIRY

About

Tom Allen is a comedian, writer and actor. He started as a stand up at the age of 22 and went on to win both So You Think You're Funny in Edinburgh and the BBC New Comedy Awards in the same year. Since then he has honed his unique style of sharp, acerbic wit and camp, riotous storytelling by performing to audiences all over the UK and around the world.

He has made appearances on Channel 4's 8 Out of 10 Cats Does Countdown, Comedy Central's The Comedy Store Presents and the John Bishop Show as well as Channel 4's Comedy Gala at the o2. In 2016-17 he supported Sarah Millican on her sold out tour of Australia, New Zealand and the UK.

In the past, Tom Allen has performed at Montreal's Just For Laughs as well as Sydney, Adelaide and Melbourne Comedy Festivals and has supported Reggie Watts and Eugene Mirman in the US. He has written articles for The Scotsman, The Independent, The Lady and The Guardian and contributed material to The Now Show and Mock the Week whilst Attitude Magazine called him a gay role model.

Tom Allen also plays Pip in Radio 4's Sony Award winning Bleak Expectations and as an actor has also guest starred in Comedy Central's Threesome, BBC's Sensitive Skin with Joanna Lumley and Fear of Fanny with Mark Gatiss and Julia Davis. Film includes Colour Me Kubrick with John Malkovich, Starter for Ten with James McEvoy and the Stephen Frears film, Tamara Drewe.

As a teenager Tom was the youngest member of the Noel Coward Society.

Video

Testimonials

Excellent, professional and great comments from everyone.

Harry Richmond, The Sportsman's
Charity.

TAGS FOR TOM ALLEN

Stand up Comedian

Radio 4

LGBT

Mock The Week

MAKE AN ENQUIRY