About

The Man Beneath The Cap - Damien O'Brien's wizardry has no limits or boundaries, utilising all variations of magic from cards to coins, watches to fire, even mind control and levitations. A natural performer mixed with boyish charm, his magic leaves even the biggest skeptic in the room bewitched.

First introduced to magic at the age of 12 by a fellow magician, Damien picked up the craft after learning a few tricks. From there Damien took his unique skill set to the streets to perform for the unsuspecting public. Their reactions were unbelievable, sealing Damien's fate as a professional magician. He says: "There's no better buzz than pulling off an amazing illusion right under someone. To watch their childlike wonder, there's no other word to describe it but... magical".

Honing his skills as both a showman and entertainer, Damien began gigging in local venues, until 2005, when a impromptu performance outside a London night club kick-started a chain of events that would catapult him into the big leagues. Using his mystic arts and improvised style of magic, Damien managed to impress a certain club owner, so he would allow this talented young magician into his private party to wow his guest list of celebrities, reality TV stars and talent agents. Needless to say, Damien was a massive hit and was asked to become a regular fixture. This spurred a domino effect within the showbiz party circuit, where Damien had free reign to showcase his abilities to some of the world's most influential and famous celebrities.

Damien has entertained some of the worlds biggest stars including Ashley Cole, David Beckham, 50 cent , Dr Dre, Lady Gaga, Nelly, Rita Ora, JLS, The Wanted, Jonathan Ross, Akon, Jermaine Jackson to name but a few.

Television appearances include ITV DayBreak, This Morning, Penn & Teller: Fool Us, BBC Magic Party T4 on The Beach, MTV, MUTV. Damien's brand new 6 part TV show for BBC Three titled 'Killer Magic' will be broadcast in 2014
