About

Charlotte is an experienced TV presenter who currently anchors on ITVs breakfast show, Good Morning Britain which she joined upon its launch.

Before joining ITV, Charlotte worked at Sky News for seven years presenting on Sunrise with Eamonn Holmes. She also hosted her own daily news show from 9-10am. During that time she covered many breaking news stories and interviewed many high profile politicians, including George Osborne, Ed Miliband, Nick Clegg, William Hague and Ed Balls. Her interview with the Defence Secretary Philip Hammond during the floods crisis was picked up by other media outlets and made national news. Charlotte anchored Sunrise live during the Olympics, presented live on location for the Diamond Jubilee and Royal Wedding, and was also live on location for Sky News' General Election coverage.

Charlotte Hawkins has interviewed many entertainment stars such as David Beckham, Sir Paul McCartney, Oprah Winfrey, Sir Elton John, Matt Damon, Will Smith, Johnny Depp and Tinie Tempah to name a few. She has hosted Sky News's BAFTAs show, and also presented live from LA on the Oscars red carpet.

Charlotte began her broadcasting career working at ITV Meridian as a producer and reporter, before co-presenting the main regional news show for four years. During that time she also co-hosted the current affairs discussion series The Big Story, as well as presenting the London Boat Show and Southampton Boat Show programmes for ITV1.

Charlotte writes travel articles that have been published in The Mail on Sunday, The Daily Telegraph and The Independent newspapers.

Away from the camera, Charlotte loves the outdoors, and spends her time horse-riding, cycling, and also sails and skis. She is passionate about animals and enjoys going for long walks with her rescue dog Bailey.
