About

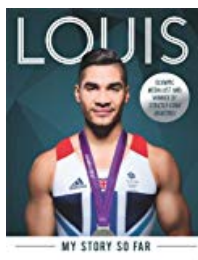

Louis Smith is Britain's most successful ever gymnast, having won a hat-trick of medals in Beijing and London. He was the first Briton to win a medal in the individual gymnastics at the Olympic Games since Walter Tysall in 1908 and made history at London 2012 as an integral member of the GB Team which earned Britain's first team medal in a century.

Following his success in London, Louis Smith took to the dance floor in BBC's Strictly Come Dancing and waltzed his way to a covered Glitterball Trophy.
