About

Jasmine Harman is best known for being the face of Channel 4's award-winning show A Place in the Sun: Home or Away, for which she has filmed over 250 episodes. It has taken her all over the world searching for the best properties for her house-hunters. Since she joined the show in 2004 ratings have more than doubled and it is now broadcast in Europe, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

In 2011, Jasmine filmed a very personal documentary for BBC1 called My Hoarder Mum and Me, which followed her family's attempts to overcome her mother's compulsive hoarding. A follow up documentary, Britain's Biggest Hoarders aired on BBC1 the following year and the third instalment in spring 2013.

The Zoo Next Door, again for BBC 1, saw Jasmine meet people who had taken pet ownership to extremes and she has appeared as a regular contributor for The One Show for the past four years.

In Collectaholics, a hit series for BBC2, Jasmine explored the weird and wonderful world of some of Britain's greatest collections. The Truth About Your Teeth (BBC1) explored how the latest science and technology can change the way we look after our teeth.

Before her career in television Jasmine worked in the Health Club Industry. She is a qualified fitness instructor and lived in the Algarve working as a marketing manager for a luxury health resort. Here she began writing professionally and hosted her own twice-weekly live magazine show on the Algarve's most popular radio station, Kiss FM.

Jasmine is still passionate about health and well-being. She enjoys boxercise, salsa and Savante, and having spent 30 years as vegetarian, is now vegan.
