About

June Sarpong has enjoyed a career spanning more than two decades in the media and entertainment, which has seen her become one of the most recognisable faces of British television.

She is a media phenomenon, and is the only host of her generation that's equally comfortable interviewing politicians, celebrities and members of the public.

June has also taken on the world's most challenging live audiences, hosting 2005's major Make Poverty History event in London's Trafalgar Square and presenting at the UK leg of Live Earth in 2007. In 2008, alongside Will Smith, she also hosted Nelson Mandela's 90th Birthday celebrations in front of 30,000 people in London's Hyde Park.

June Sarpong was awarded Member of the British Empire in the Queens 2007 New Year's honours list for her services to broadcasting and charity.

June is the cofounder of the WIE Network (Women: Inspiration & Enterprise). WIE first launched in NYC in 2010 and then in the UK in 2012. This acclaimed conference has featured leading speakers from a gamut of industries, previous speakers include: Sarah Brown, Melinda Gates, Arianna Huffington, Donna Karan, Queen Rania, Nancy Pelosi, Iman and many more.

After living in America for eight years, June moved back to the UK in 2015, and is now a regular panellist on Sky News' weekly current affairs discussion show, The Pledge.

In October 2019, June Sarpong was appointed as the BBC's first Director of Creative Diversity.

She is also an author of two award winning books; 'Diversify: Six Degrees of Integration' and The Power of Women.

Testimonials

Thanks so much to June for being part of Our Planet - all went really well! June Sarpong both hosted and interviewed like an absolute pro, she's a true professional and her genuine interest in what the interviewees had to say was unbelievably refreshing to see! Thanks so much!

Netflix.

The event was brilliant, a big thank you to June! She was engaging, professional and the perfect host. Her Q&A questions for the panel section were thoroughly thought through, considered and relevant to our themes. Her hosting abilities allowed the panellists to give great responses and the entire event went as planned, to time and had real impact - a lot of which was down to June!

I just wanted to say what a pleasure it was working with June Sarpong - she was brilliant at the Dove launch and very easy to work with. Her hosting was natural and controlled, and she worked the room brilliantly! She made such an impression that Dove want to use her for another event later in the year!
